Are the technical standards too demanding?

- Different regulations in different regions → harmonizing of regulations
- many regulations due to fire protection
- Every product is critically examined with regard to its ecological properties
- good idea: realise the goal of ecological building together with the architect or engineer
- all products used must be easily removable and recyclable

How to solve the lack of skilled workforce?

- Better cooperation between craftsmen & architects
- Bring economics and R&D together
- Parallel education or dual education at high-school level
- Establishing a program for international study tours
- External experts could teach new technologies in schools, universities,..
- More technical schools (HTL)

How to increase R&D&I activities within the sector?

- Better support for SMEs for innovation – funding schemes
- Enhanced participation of SME's in R&D projects via clusters
- more emphasis on wood at the university → more cooperation between universities and companies
