CONNECT EO

Connecting European Earth Observation to International Markets

Funded by the EASME under the COSME Cluster Go International programme, the ConnectEO project aims to promote and foster market access between the European Earth Observation SMEs and two target countries: Australia and Chile

Don't miss the first ConnectEO interview!

Introducing the ConnectEO project, Mr. Celestino GOMEZ CID, who is one of the directors of the European Association of Remote Sensing Companies and has a background in earth observation (EO), telecommunications and GNSS.

He presents the importance of such internationalisation projects that foster the European EO SMEs to develop their capabilities to access new markets. He also highlights the opportunities to build partnerships between the EO value added industry in Europe and in third countries.

What do EO Companies could expect from The ConnectEO project? How EO products and services could address agriculture and maritime challenges? How the COVID situation impacts internationalisation activities? Discover the answers to these questions and more....
